A Year Of Startling Styles, Smaller Cars, And

The 1980-81 school year at Sanger High was a very eventful one. The 1980 presidential election saw Ronald Reagan and George Bush defeat Jimmy Carter and Walter Mondale. On Inauguration Day, we saw the long awaited return of our U.S. citizens who had been held hostage for 464 days by militants in Iran.

On March 10, "the most trusted man in America," Walter Cronkite, retired from CBS news.

An attempt was made on President Reagan's life on March 31. Fortunately the bullet missed his heart by an inch and he recovered.

Many things were happening at Sanger High too. For the first time in the history of the school, we were represented at the state level by an athletic team. The girl's varsity basketball team became Regional Champs and advanced to Austin for the State Playoffs.

This seemed to set a presedent for the other groups. A winning attitude became tradition. The high school band received their first Division I rating in Concert competition. The drill team received a Division I trophy for a routine at competition.

The Speech and Drama team was represented by six students at the Harvard Invitational Tournament in Massachusetts. One Sanger student advanced to finals in the top 20 percent. The Speech and Drama Team also qualified three people for the Texas Forensic Association State Tournament.

Sanger won the district UIL Literary Meet and sent 16 contestants to regional competition.
